INCREASE SELLS
– Less shrinkage!

The stores is the frontline where products meeting customers. This is the stage for sale. And the best sellers, the product themselves. The A5 can get the products right up on stage and let the customer use all his senses. It stimulate sales.

Can you still decorate his shop as an open and inviting showroom with fully working products to the front? With the opportunity to try, choose and buy? Yes, you can easily. A5 can put pressure on sales without compromising safety. And this in line with our concept.

SensorLine generates sales through security. Our integrated security solutions protect your assets, take into account your shop layout and prioritize customer choice and shopping experience much. With an innovative and flexible approach to product security paves the way for us an inspiring meeting between products and customers.

We create more sales for sure. For the customer experience playing for us just as important as the technology that effectively reduces shrinkage. Effective security is no good if customers are scared away and do not dare ask. With A5 being the latest member of the SensorLine BOSSystem family we offers products and sales on a silver platter... anywhere in your store!

A5 – three solutions in one and the opportunity to upgrade to AP5
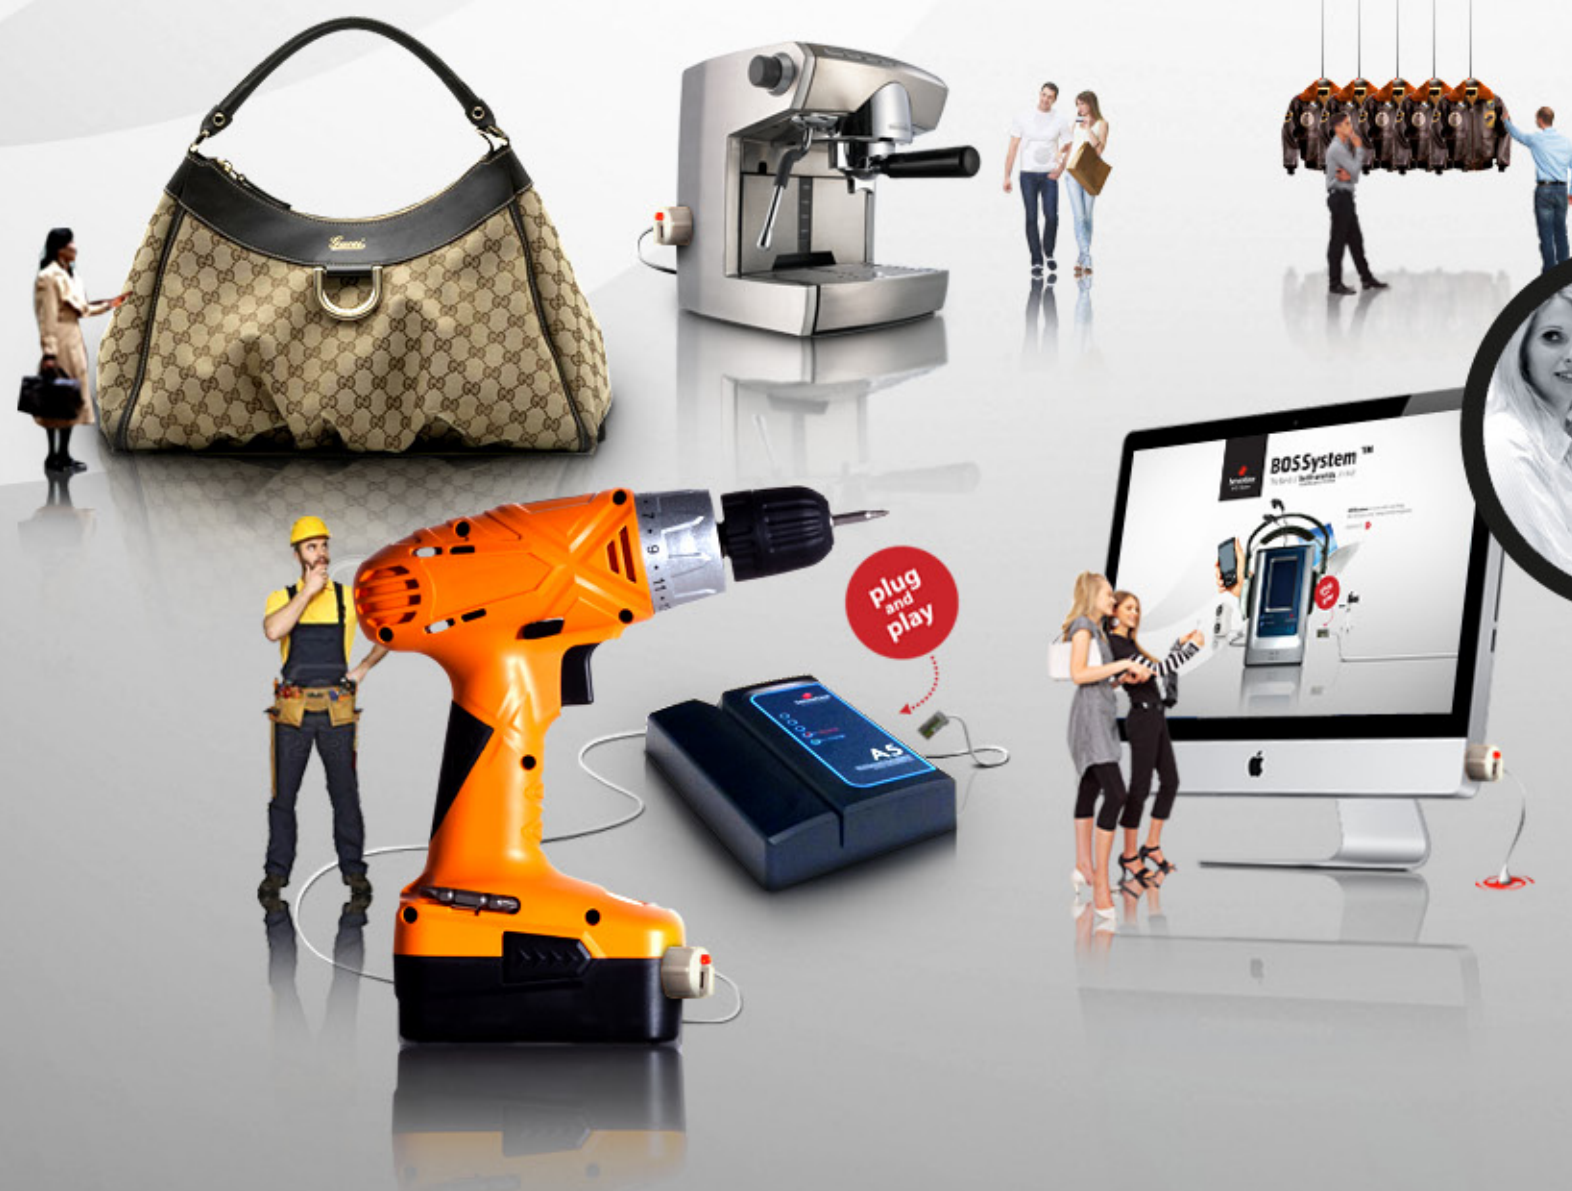

#1

BATTERY-OPERATED
Display Security Solution flexible and movable

A5 is battery powered and can be moved freely around. This makes the A5 optimally for use in the window at a podium in the middle of the store or at a exhibition booth where you do not have access to power.

Install A5 in less than 5 minutes. Insert four batteries in the A5 and you are ready to display and secure up to 5 products. The batteries have a lifespan of up to three years before they must be replaced.

A5 is operated by a non-contact Usercard. RFID technology makes it possible to place A5 under a desk or hidden behind the wall so it is not visible, while the A5 still can be operated with the RFID Usercard.
